Cost of revenue for the full year was $4.3 million compared to $2.0 million for 2012 and primarily relates to increased depreciation expense for units placed during the year. As part of the offering the Company sold just over 4.2 million shares of common stock and prefunded warrants to purchase up to 4.3 million shares of common stock. The Company also issued additional warrants to purchase up to 6.9 million shares of common stock, which could result in proceeds of $5.8 million, if exercised.

In November, Rose Crane was appointed President and CEO of the Company bringing over 30 years of healthcare industry experience in fields such as pharmaceuticals, medical devices and healthcare services. As President and CEO of Epocrates, a healthcare technology firm, she directed the efforts to take the company public.

- presented four Poster Presentations at the 32nd Annual Fall Clinical Dermatology Conference in Las Vegas and held its first Clinical Advisory meeting, which announced the launch of a new user study, called the MelaFind® Experience Trial (MET–1);
- participated in the Washington D.C. Dermatological Society's Fall Clinical Conference, a hands-on symposium involving live patient case studies and pathology analysis; and
- in conjunction with the Mount Sinai Winter Dermatology Symposium, hosted its second Clinical Advisory Meeting chaired by Dr. Gary Goldenberg, Medical Director of Mount Sinai's Dermatology Faculty Practice.

"Having joined MELA Sciences just before the end of the year, I can only say thank you to everyone from management to staff for their diligence and hard work throughout 2013. The market proved to be a difficult one and ultimately the Company realized that a refocused strategy was in order. So I am happy to say we have initiated a new business plan and a new business model that will serve not only MELA but dermatologists and most importantly the patients at high risk for melanoma," said Rose Crane, President and CEO of MELA Sciences.

The new business plan refocuses the Company's go-to-market strategy on medical dermatologists who treat high-risk patients and on Key Opinion Leaders at leading hospitals and teaching institutions in the United States as they lead the charge on melanoma.

The new business model allows dermatologists to purchase the MelaFind® device rather than rent it. This is typically how business is conducted for medical devices.

The Company is also working diligently on securing insurance reimbursement codes for both doctors and insurance companies.

Since the end of 2013, the Company has also taken important steps in raising awareness of, the Company and its product MelaFind®, and strengthening its balance sheet. Senior management presented at a small-cap investor conference in New York and was well received. MelaFind® has been introduced to several major institutions in the United States gaining placement in four of the leading melanoma centers.

In February, the Company completed a private placement offering with two major healthcare institutional investors and its directors for net proceeds of approximately $11.54 million prior to approximately $2.5 million in penalties that have applied and up to an additional $1.4 million in penalties that may apply. As part of the offering the Company sold shares of its non-redeemable preferred stock, which is convertible into approximately 14.6 million shares of its common stock and warrants to purchase up to 13.3 million shares of common stock which, if exercised, could result in proceeds to the Company of up to $9.8 million. In addition, the Company sold approximately 200,000 shares of its common stock to its directors.
